

JOB APPLICANT PRIVACY POLICY

Effective date of last update: 19 April 2022

INTRODUCTION AND SCOPE

BeiGene is committed to respecting and protecting the privacy of your personal information.

The data controllers of your personal information (i.e. the entities that determine how your personal information is used) under this Privacy Policy are:

- BeiGene, Ltd., for the purposes of managing this global BeiGene Career portal, and
- the BeiGene entity that you are applying to, the name of which will be provided to you as part of the job description or other information provided to you.

This Privacy Policy is directed at individuals who provide BeiGene, Ltd. and/or its subsidiary companies (“BeiGene”, “we”, “us”, “our”) with personal information, in order to seek BeiGene work opportunities (“job applicants”).

This Privacy Policy describes how BeiGene uses the personal information we collect about you and how to exercise your rights.

As you read this Privacy Policy, please keep in mind the following important information about how this Privacy Policy applies:

1. This Privacy Policy contains specific sections that may not be applicable to you because of where you are located or the type of personal information we maintain about you.
2. This Privacy Policy may be complemented or supplanted by other privacy policies or information notices that tell you how your personal information is used and disclosed in certain other contexts. To the extent that those policies or notices are provided, posted and/or referenced, that different privacy policy or notice, and not this one, will apply to the processing of your personal information.
3. Our websites, web portals, mobile applications or other digital services (together, our “websites”) may contain links to third-party websites that we do not operate, control or endorse. Once you leave our websites, we are not responsible for the protection and privacy of any information you provide. We suggest reading the privacy policies of these third-party websites and if needed, contacting those websites directly for information about their privacy practices.

HOW LONG WE RETAIN YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We retain your personal information for as long as it is necessary for the purposes set out in this Privacy Policy, unless required by our legal obligations to retain it for longer. To determine the appropriate retention period for information, we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of information, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of the information, the purposes for which we process the information, whether we can achieve those purposes through other means and all applicable global legal, regulatory, and compliance requirements.

In particular, the information collected via the job application process is retained for use in future searches and applications and for use if you are recruited or if you integrate BeiGene’s pool talent. If you want your information deleted, please reach out to BeiGene at privacy@beigene.com. We will keep a record of your unsubscribe request, if any, for as long as is necessary to comply with that request. We may also retain certain job application information if required to do so by applicable law or to defend or prosecute our legal rights.

In addition to this, BeiGene will keep your personal information during:

- the statute of limitation, if needed for evidence purposes;
- the applicable legal retention periods, in particular regarding commercial, compliance and regulatory matters, or any other mandatory retention period (such as legal hold or investigation).

WHERE WE PROCESS YOUR INFORMATION AND HOW WE PROTECT IT

BeiGene operates in many countries around the world and your personal information may be accessible to or shared with our affiliates, service providers, partners, collaborators and regulators in various countries for the purposes specified in this Privacy Policy. The laws in certain countries may not provide the same level of protection as the laws in your country or region. When that is the case and as required by applicable laws, we take steps to protect your transferred information, such as entering into contracts with recipients of your information or implementing additional data safeguards.

While we have established reasonable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to protect your personal information from unauthorized access and disclosure, we cannot guarantee its absolute security. You should take special care in deciding what information you transmit, upload, send or otherwise submit to us.

YOUR CHOICES AND RIGHTS

You may choose not to provide your personal information to us; however, in doing so, you may not be able to continue your relationship or interactions with us or use certain services.

Under certain laws such as GDPR, California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (CCPA), California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 (CPRA) or China's Cybersecurity Law (including its implementing regulations and national standards), you may have the following rights with respect to your personal information:

- Your right of access. You may have the right to ask us to provide clear, transparent and understandable information on how we process your personal information, as well as for copies of your personal information. There are some exemptions, which means you may not always receive all the information we process.
- Your right to rectification. You may have the right to ask us to rectify information you think is obsolete or inaccurate and the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete.
- Your right to deletion of your personal information. You may have the right to ask us to delete your personal information in certain circumstances.

- Your right to restriction of processing. You may have the right to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal information, during a limited period of time, in certain circumstances.
- Your right to object to processing. You may have the right to object to processing, in which case, BeiGene will no longer process your personal information unless BeiGene demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms, such as compliance with a legal obligation or for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims.
- Your right to data portability. You may have the right to ask that we transfer the information you gave us from one organization to another, or give it to you.
- Right to withdraw your consent. If we process your personal information based on your consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent, without this withdrawal affecting the lawfulness of the processing operations previously carried out.
- Right to close your account. If you receive our services through online accounts, you have the right to close your accounts. We will then delete or anonymize your personal information associated with your accounts, unless otherwise permitted under applicable laws.

Depending on your country of residence and the country where the BeiGene entity processing your personal information is established, you may have additional local rights with respect to our processing of your personal information. Please note that some of the personal information that we collect, use and disclose may be exempt from the rights outlined above.

You can submit your request by sending us an email at privacy@beigene.com.

We will respond to your requests within the time period prescribed by applicable laws. Under certain circumstances, BeiGene may ask you for specific information to confirm your identity and ensure the exercise of your rights. This is a security measure to safeguard personal information. We will notify you when your request is completed, if we deny your request to exercise your rights (because, for example, an exception applies), or if there is a fee associated with processing your request.

You may designate an authorized agent to exercise your rights on your behalf. In such case, we will also need to verify your agent's identity and obtain proof of your authorization. We may need to deny a request from an agent whose identity or authorization we cannot verify.

If you believe that BeiGene has processed information in a manner that is unlawful or breaches your rights, or has infringed applicable laws, you may have the right to complain directly to your local data protection authority. Without limiting any rights to complain directly to an authority, we are committed to protecting personal information, and complaints may be made directly to us.

We will not discriminate against you for exercising any data subject right you have under applicable law.

We may also use your personal information in the event of a sale or transaction including some or all of BeiGene's assets.

We do not sell personal data of California job applicants.

If you have questions about this summary, you can contact privacy@beigene.com.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FOR INDIVIDUALS IN THE EUROPEAN Union/EUROPEAN ECONOMIC AREA, UNITED KINGDOM, OR SWITZERLAND

We are required to comply with the European Union's and the United Kingdom's General Data Protection Regulations ("GDPR"), Switzerland's Federal Act on Data Protection (FADP) and similar applicable local laws with regards to certain personal information we collect. The data controllers of your personal information are the BeiGene entities referenced when we collect your personal information. Please contact us if you have any questions about the controller or controllers of your personal information.

Sensitive data

We process special categories of information (e.g., sensitive information that reveals racial or ethnic origin or genetic, biometric and health information) only where you give us your explicit consent, or when our processing is for scientific research purposes, necessary to meet a legal or regulatory obligation, in connection with the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims, or is otherwise expressly permitted by law.

If we need to collect your personal information by law or under the terms of a contract we have with you and you do not provide the requested information, we may not be able to perform the contract we have, or are trying to enter into, with you.

Data transfers

BeiGene is a multi-national company with offices in the United States, China, Switzerland, Australia and elsewhere. As such, BeiGene may transfer or provide access to your personal information to affiliates, service providers or collaborators in these countries and others that do not provide the same level of protection as your own country. When we do so, in the absence of an adequacy decision concerning the recipient country, we rely on safeguards such as approved model contracts (for example the EU's standard contractual clauses or the UK's international data transfer agreement), after having carried out an assessment of the level of protection of your rights on the territory of the third country where the recipient of your personal information is established. For more information about BeiGene's use of the model contracts, please contact us.

Your rights

Rights you may have under the GDPR with regards to the personal information we collect and maintain about you are described in the section YOUR CHOICES AND RIGHTS. Under the GDPR, the exercise of these rights may be limited or delayed dependent upon the legal basis for processing the data, for example:

Legal Basis	Access	Rectification	Erasure	Restriction	Information portability	Objection
Consent	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Withdrawal of consent
Steps prior to entering into a contract			Yes		No

OUR COOKIE POLICY

Cookies, pixel tags, and other trackers (hereinafter “Cookies”) are small files that allow for storing or retrieving information on your browser or your device (computer, tablet, mobile, etc.) when visiting online services. Cookies are widely used by websites, mobile applications, software or emails. When you first visit our websites and again if you delete the Cookies or the Cookies expire or change, you will be asked which Cookies you consent to.

Cookies do not recognize you personally, but rather the device you use. Cookies simply give information about your browsing activities in order to recognize the device later on in order to improve the browsing experience, save your preferences or even adapt the services offered to you on the Websites. To find out more about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set, visit www.aboutcookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org

We may use the following types of cookies on our websites:

- Necessary Cookies, which enable the proper functioning of the Websites (security, facilitate browsing, display of the webpages...). You may disable these by changing your browser settings as described below. If you do so, you will still be able to navigate the Websites, but some of the Websites’ functions will be affected;
- Analytics Cookies, which are used to collect information about how visitors use our websites to improve the Websites by collecting information on how you interact with the Websites;

- The cookies collect information in a way that does not directly identify anyone, rather they collect information in an aggregated or generalized statistical form, including the number of visitors to the website and blog, where visitors have come to the website from and the pages they visited.
- One of the analytic cookies we use is Google Analytics. Google's overview of privacy practices and data safeguards is available at: <https://support.google.com/analytics/answer/6004245>. To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites, visit <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.
- Social Media Cookies, which enable you to interact with social plugins on the Websites and share content on social networks; and
- Advertising Cookies, which enable the placement of advertisements, to measure their effectiveness and to adapt their content to your browsing and your profile.

Most web browsers allow some control of most cookies through the browser settings. For example, there are simple procedures in most browsers that allow you to delete existing cookies. If you want to set your computer or mobile web browser to reject all cookies by default, please visit the home page for your browser for instructions. If you reject all Cookies, you may still use our Websites; however, this may affect the functionality of some areas of our Websites.

In addition, your Internet Protocol (IP) address (an identifying number that is automatically assigned to your computer by your Internet Service Provider) is identified and logged automatically in our server log files whenever you visit the Site, along with the time(s) of your visit(s) and the page(s) that you visited. We use the IP addresses of all visitors to the Site to calculate Site usage levels, to help diagnose problems with the Site servers, and to administer the Sites. We may also use IP addresses to communicate with or block access by visitors who fail to comply with our Terms of Use.

We do not track our website users over time or across third party websites to provide targeted advertising. At this time, we do not respond to “Do Not Track” signals from your web browser due to the lack of an established industry standard. For more information about “Do Not Track” signals, please visit <https://allaboutdnt.com/>.

CONTACTING US

You may contact us at any time if you have questions or concerns about this Privacy Policy or our practices. Please send an email to privacy@beigene.com.

We will endeavor to respond to your request as soon as reasonably possible in compliance with applicable laws.

To protect your privacy and security, we take reasonable steps to verify your identity before granting access or making corrections. Note that despite any requested removal of or change to your information there may be residual information that will remain within our databases and other records.

We strive to accommodate all individuals regardless of disabilities. If you need to receive the information contained in this document in a different format, please contact us at privacy@beigene.com.

CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

We aim to regularly update this Privacy Policy to reflect our practices. Therefore, we recommend you to periodically review this Privacy Policy. In case of material changes, we may take steps to notify you before they become effective.
